Haitian PM Removed From Office

CaribWorldNews, PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Mon. April 14, 2008: Haiti's Prime Minister Jacques Edouard Alexis has been removed from office even as nationals here continue to protest over rising food prices and international organizations rush to resolve the riots.

An extraordinary session called by Haiti's parliament Saturday, amidst rising tension, led to 16 of the country's 27 senators voting to dismiss Alexis.

Alexis, for his part called the dismissal 'unjust' even as the Rene Preval administration rushed to lower the price of rice by almost 16 per cent. The food protests have captured international headlines and left five people dead to date.

The Alexis removal came as some 400 tons of fortified rice, worth more than $1.5 million, was made available for an emergency delivery to Haiti by the Pan American Development Foundation, an affiliate of the Organization of American States. The food is set to be distributed largely to schools, health centers for women and children, hospitals and community groups operating in Cité Soleil, Bel Air and other locations where the PADF has programs.

Meanwhile, OAS Assistant Secretary General Albert Ramdin, told a U.S. House of Representatives' Sub-Committee on the Western Hemisphere on Friday that urgent, short-term aid is needed for the French-speaking Caribbean country.

Officials warned that 'unless something is done urgently, the situation could deteriorate even further,' an OAS statement said.

The OAS officials also stressed support for temporary protected status for Haitian nationals living in the United States, and asked for congressional support to pass the
